Astronauts To Fill In Record Orbit Details

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Grinning from ear to ear, the Gemini 11 astronauts came back to Cape Kennedy today and thanked the launch crews for the perfect liftoff that enabled them to achieve their remarkable, record-shattering space flight.

Navy Cmdr. Charles Conrad Jr. and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Richard F. Gordon Jr. landed here in separate helicopters at 9:53 a.m. after a two-hour trip from the carrier Guam, 180 miles offshore.

As they bounded to the ground, wearing blue flight suits, the astronauts were greeted by a 12-foot banner that read: "Welcome back Pete and Dick." Another read: "Even the roaches in the trailer are glad you're back."

The astronauts, both 36, will remain at Cape Kennedy until Sunday night or early Monday, discussing the flight in general terms. Then they will fly to the Manned Spacecraft Center, Houston, Tex., for eight days of detailed briefings.

Then they'll hold a news conference in Houston.

Preparations were moving ahead here for Gemini 12, the last of the Gemini series.

National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials announced Thursday that the flight had been extended from three to four days so that more experiments could be conducted.

Alleged Bank Robbers Held At Marquette

MARQUETTE — Three men charged with the June 27 robbery of the Bank River State Bank have been transferred to the Marquette County Jail to await arraignment in U. S. District Court.

The court term opens Monday, Oct. 3, with Judge Wallace Kent, Grand Rapids, presiding.

Held are Robert D. Ross, 35, Reed City, Mich., Roy Edwin Waldo, 25, also of Reed City, and Clarence Elmon Waldo 32, of Baldwin, Mich.

The three men were taken to Marquette from Grand Rapids, Mich., after transfer from county jails in Florida and Oregon.

Ross, who was arrested in Superior, Wis., and broke jail, was captured in Panama City, Fla. He escaped jail again, but was recaptured the same day. The Waldo brothers were arrested in Portland, Ore.

All three men are charged with bank robbery in connection with the $33,648 armed holdup of the Bank River Bank.

Authorities said all three men have appeared before U. S. Commissioners and that arraignment in U. S. District Court is the next step in the judicial process.

Kittiwake To Join Hunt For Sub Survivors

HAMBURG, Germany (AP) — Rescuers today abandoned virtually all hope for 13 crewmen from the sunken West German submarine Hai (Shark) as high seas hindered search efforts in the North Sea.

"There is not much hope that we will recover any more survivors," a navy spokesman said Thursday night. Only one member of the 20-man crew has been rescued. Six bodies were recovered Thursday.

The German navy had hoped to put divers aboard the training sub which went down Wednesday night in 145 feet of water and possibly raise it.

But the salvage vessel Magnus III from which the divers were to be sent had to return to port because of heavy seas.

Dutch, British, Danish and German ships and planes were searching the area near the Dogger Bank of Holland. A red buoy marked the spot where the sub went down.

Two British navy ships with special diving and submarine equipment were due at the scene today and the U.S. submarine rescue vessel Kittiwake—with special submarine rescue chambers and air compressors—was due within 24 hours.

U.S. naval officers recalled that many crewmen were rescued from the submarine Squallus from a depth of 240 feet when the ship went down off Portsmouth, N.H., in 1939.

BODY OF A WEST German sailor is carried from a Danish Air Force helicopter to an awaiting ambulance at the Esbjerg, Denmark, airport. He was one of a crew of 21 aboard the West German submarine Hai on a training mission when it sank in the North Sea Wednesday night. One survivor was picked up early Thursday. ## State's Surplus At $167.5 Million

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's general fund surplus was up to $167.5 million at the start of this fiscal year, Gov. George Romney reported Thursday.

That was $22.5 million more than the fiscal experts had predicted — "but most of it's already committed," Romney said.

Romney said in a news conference that he had just been handed final figures for the 1965-66 fiscal year, which showed, "General fund revenue for (last) year was slightly higher than we had anticipated and general purpose expenditures were slightly less, resulting in greater reserves than we had expected."

This means, Romney said, that the state should have $67.5 million left in the till at the end of the current fiscal year—June 30, 1967. Earlier estimates had placed the figure at $62 million.

But this unexpected bonus will not slow down his efforts at fiscal reform, Romney said, adding:

"I'm going to make a move next year for fiscal reform—just as I have in the past. We need tax reform without reference to the condition of the economy or our treasury."

He declined to get into specifics, however.

Next year's estimated surplus is based on an anticipated growth rate of six per cent in the Michigan economy, Romney said, adding that the latest surplus figures give little reason for great optimism for increased state revenues in the next 9½ months. He said:

"As of this date, we see little reason to change our earlier estimates of total revenue of $882 million for the current year, pending further analysis."

Officials in Washington said although the South Viet Nam election so far has resulted in no discernible effect on the military situation, its success indicates more stability in the country's political institutions than could be predicted months ago.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk compared Communist efforts in Southeast Asia with Hitler's in Europe before World War II. Noting that "there were people who thought Hitler would be satisfied with just one more bite," he said U.S. firmness is needed in the Far East because "we dare not let aggression move beyond control."

Recommend Rewrite Of Zoning Ordinance

By DAVE ANDREWS

The City Planning Commission, challenged by Chairman Dale Vinette's demand for action, Thursday gave the first green light to a proposed shopping center development on the south side of Escanaba.

In separate actions, the commission recommended to the City Council amendment of the commercial section of the city zoning ordinance and then approved—by a narrow 5-4 vote—to further recommend rezoning of an 18.3 acre tract on S. 23rd St. from residential to the proposed shopping center commercial to allow Walch Development Co. to proceed with development plans.

The zoning amendment and recommended change will be submitted to Council for consideration.

Vinette called for a vote on the Walch rezoning request after over 2½ hours of debate on the zoning ordinance amendment and the shopping center proposal.

"We're not going to evade this any longer," he said. "We're going to settle this today."

Favoring the Walch Development Co. request were Commissioners R. O. Lankford, James Davidson Jr., Matt Smith, Fred Breitenbach and Vinette. Opposed were Dick Pryal, Paul Snyder, Joseph Ivins and Arne Maki.

Pryal, local druggist, and Maki, of the First National Bank, asked delay on the request pending the planning report for the city being prepared by Harland, Bartholomew and Associates, St. Louis, Mo.

Council Action Next

The Commission was in unanimous agreement, however, that the city needed a revision of the commercial section of the zoning ordinance to cover shopping center developments.

The recommendations will now go to the City Council for first reading, public hearing and final action. City Manager George Harvey informed Council of the Planning Commission action Thursday night and indicated it might take until November before the proposals are ready for final action.

Council talked briefly about the recommendations, but elected to delay further discussion until ordinances can be drafted.

Vinette led the charge favoring the Walch proposal "because," he said, "we haven't seen any growth in the core area and I feel this new area is good."

Objections Voiced

"I cannot see any cooperation on a downtown renewal project of any extent in the immediate future," he continued. "We've tried and tried to get moving and can't get off the ground."

Objections to the Walch shopping center proposal centered around protecting merchants and their investments in the downtown "core" business district.

The Walch Development Co. and Western Land Development Co., Minneapolis, propose construction of a shopping center on a tract of land west of S. 23rd St. The area is bounded on the east by S. 23rd St. (600 feet of frontage); on the north by 14th Ave. S., (1200 feet of frontage) and on the west by the Municipal Airport.

The proposed shopping center would mean an investment of about $1.5 million and would provide its own parking.

Attorney Robert LeMire, representing Walch Development Co., said it wasn't a question of protecting the downtown area.

"The shopping center is going in," he said, pointing out that if the proposed area is not rezoned the center will be built elsewhere.

Property Discussed

LeMire said that the area proposed for the shopping center is "the most undesirable parcel of residential property in Escanaba. The Walch Development Co. owns this piece of property and has been trying to sell it for a residential area for years and just cannot get rid of it."

He said that if Council approves the proposed Commercial-2 zoning amendment, the Walch Development Co. would modify their request to ask Commercial-2 zoning. If the zoning amendment is not passed, LeMire said he would continue to seek the previously requested change to commercial.

The proposed change in the commercial section of the zoning ordinance would divide commercial zoning into three parts, similar to the residential section now which provides for Class-1 (single family), Class-2 (two family), and Class-3 (multiple family) housing areas.

Commercial-1 zoning would be basically the same as it is now and would regulate "core area" business. Commercial-2

Joint Effort By U.S.-Canada Is Lakes Need

CHICAGO (AP) — A former Indiana governor called today for closer cooperation between the United States and Canada to prevent total pollution of the Great Lakes.

Matthew E. Welsh, a member of the International Joint Commission, said his agency, which regulates U.S.-Canadian boundary waters, needs better enforcement techniques to prevent the contamination of the Great Lakes system.

Speaking to members of the Vice President's Conference on Water Pollution, Welsh called for the closest coordination of agencies in both countries to obtain the data necessary for a comprehensive investigation of pollution in the Great Lakes.

Welsh blamed lack of foresight for the present fresh water crisis. He said a 1918 study by the commission, which had called the condition of the Great Lakes "everywhere perilous and in some cases dangerous," has been ignored.

Welsh told members of the conference, "the fact that it took the two governments 28 years (1918-1946) after the first commission report on pollution of boundary water, which found conditions 'chaotic and disgraceful' to get up enough courage to ask it to take another look, is eloquent evidence of the lack of public concern during this period."

Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall Thursday took a different approach in calling for a cleansing of polluted waters.

Udall urged states and cities to produce their share of the funds and effort needed to fight contamination. He suggested state and city governments each provide one-third of the money needed to supplement proposed federal funds.

Auto Production Continues Rise

DETROIT (AP)—U. S. auto production continued to soar this week as 1937 models were introduced to the press around the nation, the trade publication Automotive News said Thursday.

Assemblies this week numbered 159,948 compared with 105,333 in the four-day Labor Day week and 119,396 in the same week last year.

Calendar year production stood at 5,836,005 compared with 6,420,673 units produced at the same point in 1965. The trade paper said the September aggregate now stands at 304,888.

Truck output this week was 29,035, up from the 19,862 assemblies reported last week but short of the 35,223 in the same week last year.

Miller Urging School Change

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Ford Motor Co. President Arjay Miller urged Thursday that America must change its educational institutions "as rapidly as we have been changing our technology."

The continued progress, and even the survival, of our civilization are at stake," he said in initiating the McNally Lectures at the University of Michigan.

"Our world is changing so swiftly that" today's students will be required "to make adjustments equivalent to moving to another planet," Miller said.

He expressed hope that some of the problems might be solved by the continued marriage of industry and education, a marriage he said would accelerate technological change.

"For the university, he said, the urgency of today's problems means taking on a new role as active participant in the affairs of government and business."

Miller said that the state should have $67.5 million left in the till at the end of the current fiscal year—June 30, 1967. Earlier estimates had placed the figure at $62 million.

But this unexpected bonus will not slow down his efforts at fiscal reform, Romney said, adding:

China Blocked From UN Seat

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials are reported confident they have enough votes to again block an anticipated move to admit Communist China to the United Nations.

The officials, who refused to be named, said Thursday they expect the same group of countries to re-submit in the U.N. session beginning Tuesday the so-called Albanian proposal which would admit Red China in place of Nationalist China.

The vote on the proposal, which needs a two-thirds majority, was 47 to 47 last year. Officials predicted a vote this fall at least as strong as last year's against giving Peking a seat.

Council Demands Action On Dogs

The City Council Thursday called for a "get tough" policy on offenders of the city dog ordinance and directed a resolution to Prosecuting Attorney Nicholas P. Chapek asking for action by the County dog warden.

Mayor Harold Vanlerberghe said he received a report that eight to 10 dogs were running loose at Webster school and that one child was nearly injured when chased into the street by one animal. He said it was one of several complaints he had received this week.

It wasn't that the dog bit the in the city by the County dog warden at least one day per week.

Constant Problem
"We pay a good share of the county taxes," said Councilman George Rusch. "One day a week isn't too much to ask."

The dog problem in Escanaba and Delta County has been a constant problem in recent years. And despite recent meetings in an effort to co-ordinate a local Humane Society with the Sheriff's Dept. and County Dog Warden no steps have been taken.

Vanlerberghe suggested that if the city doesn't get action from the county that an extra police officer be hired for dog patrol and the county be billed for his services. Action was delayed to await efforts at a solution with available personnel.

Meanwhile, council warned dog owners to keep animals confined and asked city police to track down dog owners and to sign complaints.

In other business, City Manager George Harvey informed the council of proposed changes in the city zoning ordinance regarding commercial land use and the proposed development of a shopping center, but no action was taken pending drafting of the proposed changes.

Bid Accepted
Independent Salt Co. was awarded contract to supply the city with 100 tons of rock salt for winter ice control purposes at a rate of 82 cents per 100-pound bag. The company was low among five bidders. Photo Offset printing, 109 S. 23rd St., was the only bidder to supply the city with 4,500 copies of the annual report and was awarded the contract for $1,495, delivery by Dec. 15.

Ordinance 474 to vacate S. 18th St. from 22nd to 23rd Ave. to allow for better residential use was approved without objection and a request from Leslie Lark for transfer of ownership of a 1966 Class C licensed business, 123 N. 10th St., from Marshall R. Perrin was granted subject to approval of the police dept.

The Council also granted All Funeral Home permission to break curb on S. 10th St. to allow makeup of funeral processions in the parking lot, offered a resolution of congratulations to Central Methodist Church for completion of its new sanctuary and approved proclamation of Sept. 18-23 as League of Women Voters Week.

Rev. James Swan Beginning New Pastoral Duties

The Rev. James Swan has accepted the call to serve as pastor of the Evangelical Covenant Church in Escanaba. He begins his duties on Sept. 11 and installation services for the new pastor will be held later this month.

Rev. Swan was born in Jamestown, N. Y. and he attended grade school and high school there. He received a B. A. degree in History from Wheaton College in Wheaton, Ill., and began seminary work at the North Park Theological Seminary in Chicago where he received his B. D. degree.

Rev. Swan served his internship as an assistant pastor at Tacoma, Wash., and before coming to Escanaba served the Salem Square Covenant Church of Worcester, Mass., as an assistant pastor.

Rev. Swan succeeds the Rev. Everett Wilson at Evangelical Covenant and announces the following schedule of Sunday services: 9:30 a. m.—Sunday School and 10:30 a. m.—Worship service.

Over 1,000 At New College

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Washtenaw Community College opened its doors for the first time here with an enrollment that topped 1,000, far exceeding an earlier estimate of 750 students.

The board of trustees Wednesday developed a trustee tuition awards program which will cover the cost of tuition for dozens of students who have indicated financial need.

In addition, the trustees have developed a program of on-campus employment and plan to go into the community to seek funds from industrial and other private sources to increase available scholarship funds.

Over 60 per cent of the students, who will attend classes in temporary quarters in Ann Arbor and in the old Willow Village area of Ypsilanti Township, are enrolled in the area of vocational education.

U.P. Cheese Is State's Best

Rapid River Cheese Co. of Rapid River, which has won so many honors for cheese excellence at the Michigan State Fair, did it again in this year's fair, winning the first place blue ribbon for new cheese. Helping keep the Upper Peninsula's tradition of "best in the state" at the Michigan Fair, the Palestine Cheese Factory of Stephenson, H. Gruenstern, cheesemaker, won first place in the aged cheese contest.

The Rapid River entry was a 20 pound block of medium cheddar. The same cheese is available in mid-Upper Peninsula stores. It is made from milk supplied to the Rapid River plant by 150 U. P. farmers and Rapid River quality has been so consistent that it has won blue ribbons at the State Fair three quarters of the time for more than 20 years.

New cheese runners-up were Copper Country Dairy, Dollar Bay, 2nd, and Michigan State University, East Lansing, 3rd.

Aged cheese runners-up were Michigan State University, 2nd, and Ontonagon Valley Dairy, Bruce Crossing, 3rd.

'Met' Opens In Culture Palace

NEW YORK (AP)—"The Met" opens its season tonight in culture's most glamorous new palace.

The scene will be its lavish new $45.7-million home, nearly four years in the building and one of the finest opera houses in the world. It is part of New York's performing arts complex, Lincoln Center.

Before an audience as fashionable for its day as the one that witnessed the opening of the original house in 1893, the Metropolitan Opera will present the world premiere of Samuel Barber's "Antony and Cleopatra," a work commissioned especially for the occasion.

After the final curtain, the 100 orchestra musicians will resume their strike which they lifted in deference to the opening which has attracted interest around the world.

The strike started Tuesday night.

The musicians, who have been working without a contract for more than two years, demand a contract providing a reduction in the number of performances each member must play in a week, job security arbitration in event of dismissal and higher rehearsal pay.

Tonight, Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson will be at the center of the state box with her guests, Ferdinand E. Marcos, president of the Philippines, and his wife, who are on a state visit to the United States.

Fire Hose Rinse Is Beauty Secret

ROSEVILLE (AP)—The latest secret to beautiful hair may be to rinse out a permanent wave under a fire hose.

Mrs. Mary Ann Berry tried out the method when a sewer crew in this Detroit suburb turned off the water at the Roseville House of Charm where she was having her hair done.

Mrs. Margaret Demokowski, manager of the beauty shop, called the Roseville Fire Department and explained that the permanent solution had to be rinsed out promptly or it would damage the hair.

The fire crew rushed a truck to the shop, led Mrs. Berry out into the street and rinsed her hair with water from the truck's tanks.

The permanent, said Mrs. Demokowski, "turned out beautifully."

Badger Prices Control Level In U.P. Milk Mart

Michigan Milk Producers Association members who sell their milk in the Upstate (Order 43) area of the Lower Peninsula will charge dairies $5.95 a hundredweight for Class I (bottling) milk through March 31, 1967.

The new price was decided on after the Southern Michigan price was set at $6.10 per hundredweight.

Upstate members produce a total of nearly 200,000 pounds of milk a day.

In the Upper Peninsula, leaders of MMPA locals spanning the entire breadth of the "North Country" met in Marquette recently to talk pricing in the future.

Price agreements run for some time yet. Total member production in the U. P. runs about 350,000 pounds a day. At present, each dairy that buys and bottles milk in the area pays the federal order price for the month plus an MMPA-negotiated premium.

"Geographically, the price being paid for milk that goes for dairy products in north-eastern Wisconsin actually has more bearing on Michigan's Upper Peninsula than do prices being paid in Michigan's Lower Peninsula," reports MMPA's Milk Messenger. "Natural economics do, however, tend to 'line up' the prices."

"It is expected that both the Upstate and Upper Peninsula areas will continue to have superpool premium prices paid on milk, although the levels should be considerably lower than the premium of nearly a dollar over federal order which will have to be maintained in Southern Michigan."

Finman Named To Police Panel

Harold Finman, chief of the Escanaba Police Dept., has been appointed to the Upper Peninsula Coordinating and Membership committee of the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police.

Pittante Joins Escanaba Bank

Tony M. Pittante, 39, of Fond du Lac, Wis., has joined the Escanaba National Bank staff, announcing Matt Smith, executive vice president.

Pittante will serve in the bank's installment loan department and with its Michigan Bankard Service.

A graduate of Stambaugh High School and of Northern Michigan University with a major in accounting, he served two years in the U. S. ## GE To Salvage Nuclear Fuel

CHICAGO (AP)—The General Electric Co. said Thursday it plans to build near Morris, Ill., the nation's first commercial nuclear fuel recovery plant to serve the growing nuclear electric power industry.

It approved by the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission, construction of the proposed $15 million plant would begin in 1967. Morris is about 60 miles southwest of Chicago. The facility would service nuclear plants across the nation.

Dr. Paul H. Reinker, general manager in charge of fuel recovery operations, said the facility would be able to separate and recover one-half of the unused portion of fuel used by nuclear power plants. The unused portion is presently estimated at 40 per cent, meaning the plant could process about one-fifth of all fuel committed to nuclear reactors. Reinker said the reclaimed or recovered material could be used in nuclear reactors, thereby preserving the nation's energy resources.

Draft Resentment Seen Growing

War Not Explained: Says Ruppe

ALPENA — "Unless they are accompanied by long-past-due clarification from President Johnson about America's purpose in Viet Nam, rising draft calls over the months ahead for manning the war will serve largely to inoculate thousands of young Americans into becoming more and more resentful of government leadership." This warning came today from Philip E. Ruppe, Republican nominee for Congress in the 11th District, at a press conference in Alpena.

"With draft calls likely to reach 100,000 men a month early next year for a war action they can't understand, young Americans have never been in greater need for a precise and honest statement about their country's purpose and direction in Viet Nam," Ruppe said.

"Recognition of the obligation of military service in time of war has not been lost by our young people. However, the Viet Nam war, after years of fighting and thousands of American casualties, is still the worst-explained war in all U. S. history.

"It is a national tragedy when young Americans who are being asked to fight and die cannot — for lack of information — determine whether the war is a matter of life and death for their country or merely a matter worthy of heated academic discussion. And it disgusts me that the rubber-stamping incumbent congressman from this district has been so silent about this situation! Possibly he doesn't have a clear understanding about Viet Nam himself — and this too is a tragedy.

"Patriotism will always be part of our American heritage, but President Johnson's fuzzy explanation of our actions in Viet Nam is short-changing that heritage. 'We hear reports from almost everybody — except President Johnson and my opponent — that our forces in Viet Nam will be built from their present 300,000 level to 500,000 or more men.

"President Johnson has done nothing to excite the esteem of young Americans about our role in Viet Nam. His hollow pronouncements have only compounded the confusion. Although we have seen voices raised from both sides of the floor asking for explanations on the running of the war and for a clear-cut policy, my opponent has been strangely silent and I would too if I had his 100 percent LBJ voting record!

"The young men I have talked with during my campaign feel we are wholly lacking in any leadership in the war in Viet Nam.

Dr. Hemes Will Head Esky C-C

Dr. William Hemes was elected president of the Escanaba Area Chamber of Commerce at the organization meeting of the new board of directors at the Chamber building.

Other officers elected are Ray McDonough, vice president; and Arthur Arch, treasurer.

The new officers will take office Oct. 1.

Board members who will serve the Chamber for the fiscal year beginning Oct. 1 are Arthur Arch, Gust Asp, Frank Bourke, Donald Brandt, August Brazeau, Kenneth Christensen, Raymond Fish, Emil Gafner, George Harvey, Dr. William Hemes, Guy W. Knutson, W. Jess Lavolette, Richard Marenger, Ray McDonough and Percy Rosemurgy.

President elect Hemes said that he would announce the appointment of committee chairmen in October.

Tests Extend Eisenhower Stay At Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower remained in Walter Reed Army Hospital Thursday night for what a spokesman said was a routine checkup.

He was supposed to return to his Gettysburg, Pa., home Thursday but hospital spokesmen said Eisenhower remained to wait for results of unspecified tests.

They said there was no special significance to the extension.

Lions Helping Hunt Safety

William "Bud" Weber, district governor of U. P. Lions Clubs, Sault Ste. Marie, has presented $200 worth of hunter safety training aids to Paul V. Challancin, regional information officer, Michigan Department of Conservation, Marquette.

The gift, to be used in training programs in U. P. schools, consisted of four scarlet-colored deer hunting outfits; with jackets, pants, gloves, suspenders, scarfs, handkerchiefs, shirts, compasses, packknives, and waterproof match boxes.

The Munising Lions Club sponsored the project with cooperation from the White Pine, St. Ignace and other Lions clubs across the Peninsula. Schools hunter safety classes scheduled this fall include:

Munising High School, Tuesday, Sept. 13.
Cooks High School, Tuesday, Sept. 13.

Manistique High School, Wednesday, Sept. 14.

Eben High School, Wednesday, Sept. 14.

Gwin High School, Thursday, Sept. 15.

Menominee High School, Tuesday, Sept. 20.

Stephenson High School, Wednesday, Sept. 21.

Powers High School, Thursday, Sept. 22.

Carney High School, Friday, Sept. 23.

The hour-long programs began in the Upper Peninsula in 1952 and over 80,000 high school students have been instructed in hunt safety since that time. Firearm accidents have been reduced from an average of 19 per year approximately one-third.

Douglas, Hart Lakes Officers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Great Lakes Conference of Senators announced Thursday the election of Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., as its chairman and Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., as vice chairman.

The group, at a meeting called by Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., chose Douglas as a successor to the late Sen. Patrick V. McNamara, D-Mich. The conference includes senators from Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois and Ohio.

The conference voted to support legislation which would refinance the St. Lawrence Seaway Corp. and keep seaway tolls at their present levels.

The President Acts

President Johnson has acted, tardily and probably not very effectively, to curb inflation.

His action shapes up as specially hurtful to the economic interests of the Upper Peninsula, and likely to do much more damage economically than any of the federal government's economic development programs can compensate for with their stimulations.

We have had the rather unique situation of business calling for curbs on inflation, which is threatening to cripple its cost structure and profit chances, and of government hanging back and hoping that it will all turn out all right. Effective action to control inflation isn't apt to be politically popular and President Johnson had apparently been hopeful that he could delay action safely until after the Nov. 8 election so that any political backlash wouldn't be harmful to Democratic candidates.

But he couldn't delay any longer because inflation was accelerating. Prices have been rising at the rate of nearly 5 per cent a year, which means that a worker who got a 5 per cent wage increase hadn't gained anything. He was just holding even at best, and very likely he wasn't doing even that; his pay boost didn't close the inflation gap and it even contributed to it.

President Johnson has been under great pressure to take more action than pious preaching by economic advisors inside and outside of his administration. As a result he has now:

1. Asked Congress to suspend the 7 per cent investment tax credit enacted in the Kennedy years to spur sluggish industrial growth. It allows industries to deduct 7 per cent of the cost of new machinery and equipment from their income taxes.

2. Asked Congress to suspend the fast depreciation write-off. This measure aimed at encouraging new plants by allowing firms to write off a big part of the cost of the plant in the early years instead of by the normal gradual depreciation schedule.

These two measures have been worth savings of about $2.5 billion a year to American business. They have been helpful to business and to the process of job making, but there has been a 17 per cent increase in business and plant expansion and such capital investment can add to short term inflation pressures. So the President cut off the growth incentives back to Sept. 1 and effective until Jan. 1, 1968.

What the effect of this action will be upon Upper Peninsula industrial growth is impossible to appraise immediately, but it will almost certainly pose an impediment to some of the big expansion plans of industry for the U.P. The period is one of unusual commitment to expand in Northern Michigan in mining industry, transportation and manufacture and the tight (high interest rate) money situation is now compounded by removal of investment incentives.

Some business leaders suggested that the result of the 7 per cent investment tax credit suspension might be inflationary instead of anti-inflationary as some industries are too deeply committed to expansion to back out now and to proceed will mean that business might have to borrow more than ever to compensate for the tax break loss.

The President's action was tardy and its effect is debatable. The hard prospects are that inflation curbs won't be very effective, that the problem will continue and that there'll be enactment of more taxes after the election. Business has been given a pill, but it's only an aspirin, and after Nov. 8 the public will get the bill.

Benefits Often Lost

By RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON — (NEA) —

There are many heart-wrenching stories of widows living in want yet unable to claim Veterans Dependency and Indemnity Compensation because they cannot prove their husbands died of a disease or injury incurred or aggravated in line of military duty.

Go visit a Washington office of any one of the major veterans service organizations—the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Disabled American Veterans, American Red Cross, American Veterans of World War II and Korea, Retired Officers Association or any one of a dozen others. You will see files of such unfortunate cases.

There are many cases also of veterans themselves who do not receive compensation because they're unable to prove their disabilities were service-connected or aggravated. There are others who do not receive the full amount due them.

Yet in many instances this need not be so.

One problem is that many disabilities incurred or aggravated in service seem small at the time. The serviceman is young and strong. He usually underestimates the seriousness of the disability. He leaves service and his disability may not flare up seriously for five, 10 or 15 years or more. Then suddenly he has a strong recurrence and dies.

Then his survivors may have real problems.

His widow may not be able to prove a connection between his wartime disability and what he died of, even though the ailment may be the same. To prove a connection to the satisfaction of the Veterans Administration she must show there has been some sort of continuity over the years.

That is, she must show this same complaint continued during the years or flared up from time to time over the period between her husband's military service and his death.

Every serviceman's wife should keep permanently a file military records in complete of letters which he has written today of the veteran's wartime home remarking on his illness—medical problems and medical treatment. In some cases, unit records were lost in the heat of difference.

of battle, or lost when the ship carrying records home was sunk.

In some cases, a GI or officer would go or be taken to a nearby medical unit—not the medical unit of his own outfit. Though that record of treatment might still be in existence, buried in tons of files, there might be no official way to find it unless the widow happens to know what medical unit it was.

Even the records of the family doctor may be lost after a span of years. A doctor gets old and retires. After his death, someone may destroy his files.

Talk to the men in the veterans service organizations who work day in and day out on the cases of men disabled in service from illness or injury. They are emphatic in their recommendations:

1—Every serviceman and veteran should keep a diary both while in service and after.

That diary can be simple. It should record each time he goes for medical treatment in service and out. It should list the medical unit or doctor's name, the date and his own medical complaints at the time, regardless of how minor or unrelated they seem. There are connections a doctor can determine from a history of even minor complaints.

2—Every serviceman should keep some record of those men in his unit who were close to him and knew his problems, men who saw him wounded or talked to him about his injuries or otherwise knew about his problems at the time, anyone who might remember things first-hand and be a witness.

3—A serviceman with a disability should request in writing that he go before a physical evaluation board on going out of service.

If he does not agree with the board's evaluation he may write a dissenting opinion. Then the case will go to a physical review council. It's important to get such evaluations in the record.

4—Every serviceman's wife should keep permanently a file military records in complete of letters which he has written today of the veteran's wartime home remarking on his illness—medical problems and medical treatment. In some cases, unit records were lost in the heat of difference.

These records make a world of difference.

These records make a world of difference.

Top Billing, The World Over

Michigan Mirror

By ELMER E. WHITE

Michigan joined several other states this year in enacting legislation to help preserve natural beauty along the roadways.

A highway billboard bill passed by the legislature was the result of an agreement between the advertising industry and the highway department, the latter largely representing the viewpoint of the nature lovers. It actually had support of the larger billboard companies.

Under the new law, not fully effective until 1968, many of the scattered signs now in place will come down.

Billboards of specified size will be allowed only in business areas, unless the signs give directions, mark historic spots, or advertise a business or activity on the property.

Motorists will no longer see a beer or supermarket billboard five miles from town unless the store stands next to the road. Provisions of the bill allow for a sizeable number of signs within the designated business areas, however.

Legislators debated various forms of billboard regulations during the past six years.

It was not until this year that the highway department and outdoor advertising industry got together on legislation, now required to comply with the federal highway beautification act.

Doubts have been expressed whether Michigan's new law will meet federal standards, some of which are yet to be spelled out. Failure carries the threat of the withholding of federal funds.

Highway and advertising spokesmen are adopting a wait-and-see attitude.

CREED FOR YOUTH

Individual and group efforts by teenagers to improve their image as members of the community are often buried among reports of teen rowdiness.

The Youth Advisory Council, 65 young people brought together by the Michigan Youth Commission, hopes to reverse this unfortunate trend through wide distribution and use of its "Creed for the Youth of Michigan."

Written at the request of Gov. George Romney, the seven-paragraph creed poetically describes the highest of ideals in the various areas of daily life. As Romney noted, it provides "adults as well as a set of guiding principles worthy of study, discussion and action."

Touching on moral obligations, family relations, teen-adult contacts, educational values, government responsibilities, religious tolerance, and equal opportunity, the creed was written by a small committee of the Youth Advisory Council, studied, and rewritten over nearly two years by the entire group.

The committee which presented the creed to the Governor emphasized it might need adjustment in future years but is designed to "help the youth of today" and be adaptable to meet the changing needs of tomorrow's youth.

TAX REDUCTION?

Good news for many motorists who balked at paying $1 extra when they registered autos this year may come in 1967.

Secretary of State James M. Hare says the uninsured motorist accident claims fund is in good financial condition with the money collected this year. He will recommend the legislature require contribution to the fund only by the uninsured drivers in the future.

Any change in the law eliminating the $1 fee to insured drivers would not take effect until the issuance of 1968 license plates.

Sound reserves established in the fund this year are expected to hold up against the number of claims anticipated in the next several years. Hare reports.

The Secretary also will recommend a raise in the limit now imposed on each claim.

Motorists who fail to carry insurance on their vehicles would still pay the $35 fee per registration, continuing to bolster the fund until they buy their own insurance and reimbursing the fund if claims are filed against them.

Insured motorists poured some $3,723,017 into the fund at $1 each while more than 160,000 drivers without insurance contributed over $5.6 million into it.

Hare estimates there are about 200,000 uninsured drivers in the state, most of whom will be found by the end of the current registration year.

"We might not catch up to all of the uninsured, but every day some are apprehended in other infractions and their slight of the $35 uninsured fee comes to light," he said.

TICKET SHORTAGE

Barring a court decision overturning present law, only three political parties will be on Michigan's ballot in November.

Only the Socialist Labor Party succeeded in its petition drive to gain ballot placement. Under the law petitions must contain the signatures of a minimum of 1 per cent of the votes cast in the preceding general election for state candidate.

The two major parties, Democrats and Republicans, gain a place on the ballot automatically.

Prohibition Party officials instituted a challenge to this law and nominated candidates to be ready in the event of success. This party, formerly a regular on the ballot, also fell short for the 1964 election.

The law regarding minor party qualification has not always kept the ballot short.

In 1960, five minor parties qualified to give Michigan voters the widest choice since 1938 when six groups joined Democrats and Republicans on the ballot.

Votes drawn by the minority groups have never been a real threat to the major party candidates, however. In 1960 the five gubernatorial candidates together picked up only 10,302 votes among more than 3.2 million votes cast in the election.

We're going to have a good, strong, exciting team if he is here or not.—Coach Blanton Collier of the Cleveland Browns, commenting on the retirement of Johnny Brown.

Susceptibility to most diseases has no relationship to fitness, and exercise is certainly not a universal panacea.—Dr. Jose Montero and Kenneth Smyth, in the Journal of Association for Physical and Mental Rehabilitation.

We can fight year after year, generation after generation. Our manpower reserve to replenish our army is inexhaustible.—Gen. Van Tien Dung, chief of North Vietnamese general staff.

When I joined the office in 1917 I scarcely imagined that I should live to write its obituary notice. In those days it seemed to be about the most permanent institution in the world.—Sir Charles Jeffries, veteran former administrator of Britain's Colonial Office, commenting on its closing.

The people out here know the police because of their blue uniform. They know the Fire Department because of the red trucks, and they know the Sanitation Department because the garbage is not collected.—Donald W. Edwards, a Brooklyn anti-poverty official, echoing one of the most common complaints of the Brownsville ghetto.

I think it extremely important that the Senate, which used to be asked for its advice and consent on major foreign commitments, consider some of the sweeping implications of the "Asian doctrine" before it becomes an irrevocable national commitment undertaken without the consent or even the knowledge of the Senate.—J. William Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

If an engineer went back to the Wright Brothers' diaries to learn how to design a jet transport, people would think him mad. But most political scientists discuss political evolution in the dialectical framework set by Marx and Adam Smith.

Your Dental Ann Landers

Health Psychiatrist's Help Worth While Advice

By William Lawrence, D.D.S.

Linda B. complained of pain and swelling of about three days' duration in her right lower jaw. She was having difficulty opening her mouth and swallowing and "felt very tired."

Patient was a 28-year-old, well-developed, well-nourished female. Right side of jaw under floor of mouth was swollen and had a board-like hardness that extended from eyetooth to angle of jaw.

Her lips were parted, yet she couldn't open her mouth more than a half-inch, and could just barely stick out her tongue beyond edges of teeth. Complete mouth exam and X-rays were impossible because of limited opening.

Skin color was sickly pale and patient was in obvious distress. She was having some difficulty breathing. Pulse was above normal; temperature: 102.

Linda B. was placed on regimen of warm mouthwashes and given aspirin to help reduce fever and antibiotics to control infection. A day later swelling had not subsided but patient "felt better" and looked better. Mouth opening increased to about one finger and temperature returned to normal. Breathing was easier and regular.

Two days later swelling had still not subsided but mouth opening was wide enough to allow more complete examination. Area around lower right wisdom tooth was red. Tooth was painful to touch. X-ray showed abscess around root.

On fourth day, wisdom tooth was removed. Swelling seemed to be subsiding and was less hard. Patient continued to improve. Antibiotics were discontinued on tenth day.

Diagnosis: Ludwig's Angina. This is a dangerous inflammation. If untreated, swelling can close the throat causing death by suffocation. Infected teeth are often the cause and in this case it was the infected, partially erupted wisdom tooth.

Serious complications from Ludwig's Angina are not common in this day of antibiotics, but the threat is dangerous enough to put everyone on the alert when swelling of the jaw occurs.

YOU are the one who needs to see a psychiatrist. How many two-and-three-year-olds have YOU had dinner with lately? If a husband wants to enjoy a peaceful meal with his wife, why should he be subjected to yelling, hitting, spilling and jabbering, jabbering, jabbering?

Dear Ann Landers: I am fed up with your ridiculous column. When you can't come up with an answer you tell people to see a psychiatrist. Do you think you are the only person in the world who knows about psychiatry?

I take violent exception to your advice to "Picket Fence," the woman whose husband wanted her to feed the kids in the kitchen before he got home. He said he could not enjoy dinner with the kids and that they gave him indigestion. You told her that a father who can't stand the sound and sight of his children at the dinner table should see a psychiatrist. And then you said something equally dumb—that this father had better learn to stand his kids now or they wouldn't be able to stand HIM when they are older.

Dear Vic: Your letter couldn't have come at a better time. Please read on:

Dear Ann Landers: I am fed up with your ridiculous column. When you can't come up with an answer you tell people to see a psychiatrist. Do you think you are the only person in the world who knows about psychiatry?

YOU are the one who needs to see a psychiatrist. How many two-and-three-year-olds have YOU had dinner with lately? If a husband wants to enjoy a peaceful meal with his wife, why should he be subjected to yelling, hitting, spilling and jabbering, jabbering, jabbering?

Psychiatrist's Help Worth While Advice

Dear Ann Landers: When I first started to read your column, I resented it when you told people to get psychiatric help. It seemed to me you were out of your depth. How could YOU know who needed psychiatric help? I now realize that I resented it because I secretly feared I needed psychiatric help myself and I hated to face the truth.

Well, finally I had to make a choice, either subject myself to the couch or continue to crawl through life—hating every day—miserable, depressed and ending up an alcoholic, a hop-head or a suicide.

I was fortunate. I found just the right psychiatrist on the first try. (Some of my friends were less fortunate.) I now am looking forward to a new life. Therapy can be agony because it brings one face to face with himself, and this can be a devastating and painful experience. But it opens all sorts of doors, destroys nameless fears and can be a well-spring of strength and hope.

Keep telling people to get psychiatric help, Ann, even though a lot of them don't want to hear it. — VICTORY IN SIGHT

Teenagers: Tight Sweaters Don't Impress Employers

DON'T MISS OUT IN THE JOB HUNT. Because of kooky clothes—Millions of you will be looking for jobs this fall... a new job, a first job... part-time or full time. One of the chief things that people who do hiring notices is how you look. Put your best foot forward... starting with the crown of your head. Hair—not too long... for either girls or men. And GIRLS, go easy on the makeup—spare your future boss that shrunken heavy eyeshadow, fluttering false eyelashes, sick-white lipstick. Dress or skirts—should be businesslike... not too short (not too long) or too tight... and the same goes for sweaters. Don't come clanking in with pounds of jewelry... or flaunting textured stockings or tights. Much of the same goes for MEN—wear socks, reasonably conservative ones... avoid tight hipster pants... and, anyway, wear a jacket over them and wear a tie. Since you dress to impress others, dress to impress employers that you're businesslike... when you go on that job interview.

COLLEGE, YES—MARRIAGE, NO: Does going to college influence your getting married—and vice versa? A great deal—the figures show—for men, and even more for girls. Today, a quarter of all students graduating from college are married... but four out of five of them are men... because married couple tend to drop their courses or only attend part time. And, though more high school seniors than brides go on to college, marriage means the end of higher education for many of them. Among high school girls the most frequent age for marriage is 18... among college graduates it's 22. So—like it or not, chances are that going to college will keep a girl an "old maid" for four more years.

WILL LYNDIA'S BEAU HIT BIG-TIME—TV? "Class of '67," the Sept. 10, one-hour, variety show special, was beamed on the airwaves for two reasons—to showcase George Hamilton, Lyndia Johnson's actor escort, and to present television's picture of what's happening in the college world today. If this new format, built around a collegiate musical, pulled a big audience, it foreshadows a new television trend—away from the expiring rock 'n' roll musicals to more sophisticated fare... and it'll win a regular spot for young adult viewers on the 1967 net.

TV TIME IS HERE AGAIN—Rolling across your television screens this season, there'll be lots more of the same—mysteries, movies, westerns—shined up with more razzle-dazzle and with more shows in color. The networks will increase adventure-mystery, westerns and variety shows, but cut down on comedy. One other downtown continues—teen musicals are just about out... "Hallelujah," on the air in summer re-runs, goes off this fall... An exception is Dick Clark's "American Bandstand"—it'll be steady on. This season, one show in three will be new... Here's a smorgasbord report on them—The Girl From U.N.C.L.E. will out-derring-do The Man From U.N.C.L.E. if she can... the Green Hornet will smash down the same track as Batman... tree-swinging Tarzan will swing back on the screens, but with no Jane on the show... and The Monkees, a zany rock'n'roll quartet, will flip through misadventures more offbeat than the Beatles', in a new free-wheeling comedy. Dial outside this bigtime television and there are your programs for the new season on local stations...

Youth Beat

THE NATIONAL REPORT ON WHAT'S HAPPENING

and the daytime shows... Some with more serious television fare—for instance, College Bowl, battle of intercollegiate brains, hits its ninth consecutive year this fall... and U.S. Academic, the high school brain-buster, will continue as a late afternoon program.

SPORTS: SCHOOL SPORT TO GO OUT FOR. Though historians say the game started when ancient armies kicked around the heads of enemies they'd executed, today soccer is the leading spectator sport in the world. This fall it will be the fastest-growing school sport in the United States. For most guys (and there are soccer teams for girls, too) it's a new sport. You don't have to be one of those football or basketball giants... just quick and well co-ordinated, especially with your feet and legs... and a fast and durable runner.

BOYS' STYLE NOTE: PERFUME???—Maybe girls copy boys (pants!) too much... maybe boys copy girls (longer hair!) too much... But the latest copy-cat style note may seem much too much—real he-men are dousing with perfume. Previously the grown-up boys hid under their shaving lotions and "skin bracers," but now they openly buy full perfume.

STYLE NOTE FOR GIRLS: THE NEWEST ABOUT KNEES. Fall and winter skirts reveal knees are here to stay. Despite older voices complaining about skirts hiking up when wearers sit down, the two-year-old trend of hemlines going even higher will continue. A sampling of observers' comments: "Knees are not attractive." "Knees are no uglier than elbows." "Pretty legs are pleasing, ugly ones amusing."

But the clothing manufacturers say, "Legs are legs, they've been around a long time and, in this year's designs, they're the focal point of the feminine body." For girls who maybe have the "amusing" kind of legs. Given them with patterned stockings or tights or that cosmetic wrinkle—painted knees. For instance, circle your kneecaps with alternate stripes of eye liner and eye shadow, till you look as if you're wearing a piece of 1890's bathing suit. Warning: Some of this winter's short skirts will be thigh-length... but they're really for skidding with knitted tights worn underneath.

Susan K. Biggs Bride Of Mark E. Ethier

The First Presbyterian Church in Escanaba was the setting Sunday, Sept. 11 for the double ring ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Susan Kay Biggs and A2C. Mark Emmons Ethier.

Performing the nuptials at 4 o'clock in the afternoon was the Rev. Phillip Lyon.

The bride is the daughter of CM Sgt. and Mrs. Raymond Earl Biggs of Kadena AFB, Okinawa and parents of the bridegroom are Maj. Ret. and Mrs. Donald Edward Ethier of 605 Ogden Ave., Escanaba.

The bride chose a white satin floor length gown with a complete overlay of white lace with a veil and shoes of the same lace. She carried a bouquet of white pompons and feathered white mums centered with miniature yellow roses.

Maid of honor for her cousin was Miss Fia Hill of Wakefield, Mich. and flower girl was Miss Yvonne Ethier, sister of the bridegroom. They were attired in street length yellow powder puff dresses with matching accessories and they carried bronze and yellow pompons with bronze feathered mums.

Bestman for his brother was Pierce Ethier of Escanaba and seating the guests was Paul Ethier, also a brother of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Ethier selected a pink and orchid dressmaker suit with matching pink accessories for attending the wedding. Mrs. Biggs was not present for the wedding.

The wedding reception was held at the Sherrian Hotel following the ceremony.

Apple Crisp With Pineapple Is Tasty Change

Almost as American as apple pie is the quick adaptation called Apple Crisp, Apple Betty, Brown Betty, or perhaps numerous other "homemade" this dessert often, you may name. If you, like others, make welcome a subtle, yet distinctive flavor change.

A new twist to this old favorite is easily tasted with the addition of crushed Hawaiian pineapple. The golden pineapple adds a delicate sweetness to the tart, flavorful apples. Spiced with cinnamon and nutmeg, the fruits are perfect go-togethers, as the name, "Pine-Apple Crisp," implies.

Top off this delicious combination with a crisp and crunchy topping made from chopped walnuts, oatmeal, brown sugar, flour and butter. Serve warm with scoop of vanilla ice cream, or a dollop of sweetened whipped cream. Makes 6 servings, but be prepared for seconds!

Pine-Apple Crisp

3-4 tart apples
1½ cups drained crushed pineapple (No. 2 or 1 lb., 4½ oz. can)

½ cup sugar
3 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
½ cup brown sugar
½ cup oatmeal
½ cup chopped walnuts
2 tablespoons flour
¼ cup melted butter

Peel and core apples, then slice thin. Stir in drained crushed pineapple. Mix together the sugar, flour and spices. Toss with fruits. Turn into a greased 1½ quart casserole.

Mix together the remaining ingredients and sprinkle on top of fruit. Bake in a preheated 375° oven for 40 minutes, until apples are tender. Serve warm with ice cream or whipped cream. Makes 6 servings.

Second floor plan

FLOOR PLANS: This is a well laid-out circulation pattern, with cross-traffic at a minimum, a not inconsiderable designing feat when a fairly narrow lot makes it practical to place the entrance foyer to one side rather than at the center.

ENGLISH TUDOR: The well-earned reputation of the English Tudor architectural style for solid construction is reflected in this modified version, which has a look of strength as well as more than 2200 square feet of living space in its 1½ floors.

English Tudor Is Spacious

By ANDY LANG
Houses with individuality usually come in large sizes. But here's one that will fit on a fairly narrow lot. It's a version of the old English Tudor houses that dot the countryside from London to Liverpool to Plymouth.

Much of the distinctive charm of this 1½-story house comes from its triple-gable

G-51 STATISTICS
Design G-51 has a sunken living room, dining room, kitchen, breakfast room, three bedrooms, 1½ baths, a porch and a garage on the first floor. Total habitable area on this floor, not including the porch and garage, is 1500 square feet. Two bedrooms, a bath, plenty of closet space and a spacious studio are on the second floor with the living area totaling 731 square feet. Overall dimensions are 50' by 52'2", which includes the garage.

SUNKEN LIVING ROOM: From the foyer, one gets this immediate view of the striking living room, with its beamed ceiling and twin window seats on either side of the fireplace.

and brick. Note, too, how the front entrance porch is weather-protected by a gable roof extension.

Using the F.H.A. minimum side yard aggregate requirements of 10', this home, without garage, could be built on a 50-foot-wide lot. With a one-car garage, as shown in the first-floor plan, only a 60-foot lot would be needed.

Usually, in a narrow-lot house, a foyer is difficult to provide, as is good circulation. Both are designed in here by architect Rudolph A. Matern with a minimum of wasted hall space. Even though the foyer is not centrally located, but is at the left, the traffic pattern is excellent. The formal living room-dining room area, the kitchen and the bedroom sector each can be entered directly from the foyer.

The sunken living room is full of interesting details. There are two nostalgic window seats, one on each side of a corner fireplace, which has a high, timber mantel. The ceiling is beamed and beamed, and there is a see-through grill to a second-floor studio room. Beyond the living room is a dining room, with corner windows at right angles and with accessibility to the kitchen and a private porch. The kitchen has a full service area as well as a breakfast section. Stub walls and brick-patterned resilient floor tiles set aside the eating area so that it has the appearance of a separate room. Like the dining room, the kitchen also has an entrance to the porch.

There are three bedrooms on the first floor, along with 1½ baths. Located here, as in the homes of early America, is the stairway to the second floor. The bedroom hall contains an extra-sized linen closet — long and of a depth to make access of all items simple.

On the second floor are two bedrooms, a bath and a generous amount of closet space. But the big feature is a studio with a cathedral ceiling and roof skylight. While designed as a studio, it can, of course, be used as a study area, recreation room or even a sixth bedroom.

The Tudor style, which had its beginnings during the reign of the English House of Tudor, always has been noted for exceptionally sturdy construction. This one is no exception. But its modest size keeps construction costs at a minimum for the space provided. There are 1500 square feet of living area on the first floor, not including the porch and garage—and 731 additional square feet on the second floor.

Mine Congress Protests Misuse Of Stockpiles

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — A resolution condemning alleged manipulation of federal mineral and metal stockpiles to prevent price increases was passed by the American Mining Congress.

The resolution says there have been "official denials that stockpiles are being used to control aspects of the economy," but declares "the timing and magnitude of some stockpile sales obviously indicate a desire to influence commodity prices or to increase government revenues."

The resolution apparently referred to the government's release of stockpiled copper and aluminum when price increases were announced late last year. But while the resolution endorsed released during "unusual economic activity," it says they should hinge on consultations with the mining industry and congressional approval.

Viet Constitution To Get No Interference From U.S. Officials

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials tend to favor a presidential system for South Viet Nam's new government — but Washington is going to keep hands off the making of the constitution.

This post-election account was given to newsmen after the White House had issued a 44-page report on what President Johnson terms "the other war" — the nonmilitary campaign to build South Viet Nam as a nation.

Johnson hailed the big turnout in Sunday's Vietnamese elections as "a vote of confidence" and said the results show the people "approve of what we are doing there."

Both Johnson and his top aide in charge of the civilian program for Viet Nam, Robert Komer, said "the other war" is not being won yet but progress is impressive.

Komer cited moves against South Viet Nam's inflation as the top nonmilitary accomplishment this year. He also reported 12,000 Communists defected in January-August of this year, more than in all of 1965.

Administration strategists figure the one nation-building accomplishment, in addition to military defeat of the Reds, which could outweigh all other would be the creation of an elected constitutional government in Saigon supported throughout the land.

Last Sunday's election, sponsored by the Ky military government, named a 117-member assembly to draw up a constitution for South Viet Nam within the next six months.

Cadillac Income Tax Is Proposed

CADILLAC (AP) — A Municipal income tax of 1 per cent for residents and one-half of one per cent for nonresidents working here will be voted on by the City Commission Oct. 3. The commission also has voted to ask for a $80,000 federal loan to plan a $1 million urban renewal project.

Vote On Tax Hike

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A one-mill property tax increase for four years to finance a $5 million county medical care facility was approved for placement on the Nov. 8 ballot here by the County Board of Supervisors. The new facility would be an addition to Sun-shine Hospital.

Marquette Has Four!

Delta Wants Psychiatrist In Mental Aid Plan

Delta County moved to make a counter-proposal to Marquette County for creation of a four county mental health service district at a luncheon meeting in St. Francis Hospital Thursday noon called by Dr. Mary L. Creten, director of the Delta Menominee Public Health Department.

The meeting was attended by representatives of local government, the medical profession, the clergy, mental health and welfare services and it created a committee to work on the project. It will meet at the Health Department at 4 p. m. Monday, Sept. 19 to draft a plan for Delta participation.

The proposed Mental Health District would include Marquette, Delta, Alger and Schoolcraft counties. It would take over the present Child Guidance Clinic program in the district and the Adult Mental Health Clinic and it would add services to provide a complete program of mental health diagnosis and treatment.

4 County Plan

The program would be financed with a federal grant of $90,380 for the first year of the program starting next Jan. 1, and with local financing (one-quarter) and state and federal financing under Act 54 which sponsors the state's new mental health program. The federal grant would diminish each year and expire after four years.

Marquette County hurriedly assembled the Mental Health District proposal to meet a deadline for application for federal aid. It proposed that the headquarters staff of the Child Guidance and Adult Mental Health Clinics at Marquette be increased to provide itinerant service to the branch in Escanaba and that the branch be given, in addition to its present psychiatric social worker, a second such worker and also a psychologist.

Proposed to the Delta County Board of Supervisors, which would be the sponsoring agency for the services, was an increase of $3,000 in its present annual appropriation of $3,475 for mental health services. These go $2,500 to the Escanaba Area Branch Child Guidance Clinic, $500 to the Marquette Child Guidance Clinic and $500 to the Marquette Adult Mental Health Clinic.

Committee Named
Dr. Creten estimated that Delta mental health spending already totals from $14,000 to $16,000 yearly.

The committee headed by Dr. Creten which will meet Monday is composed of Rev. Philip Meili, Rapid River; Frank Waitrovich, head of the Escanaba Child Guidance Clinic; Wayne St. Pierre, Catholic Social Services; Charles Sedenquist, chairman, Delta County Board of Supervisors; Frank Stupak, Gladstone mayor; Richard Rinehart, president, Bay de Noc Community College; Dr. George Maniaci, Gladstone, Delta-Schoolcraft Medical Society; Edward Cox, Escanaba city councilman; and Rev. Reuben Carlson, Gladstone.

The discussion Thursday indicated that the committee will recommend that Delta County urge revision of the Mental Health District plan to provide a resident psychiatrist in the Escanaba Branch.

Service Lacking Here
Dr. Maniaci said that the medical staff of St. Francis Hospital already has approved the use of three hospital beds for psychiatric patients, the start of an "embryo psychiatric service wing for the hospital."

The present plan calls for a doctor of psychiatry from the Marquette Clinic to visit Escanaba periodically and give psychiatric diagnostic and treatment services.

The committee appeared unanimously and strongly opposed to continuation of psychiatric itinerant service. It pointed out that Marquette now had four psychiatrists available and Escanaba has none. The situation, the committee was told, creates a local medical stigma, with all referrals here for psychiatric after-care having to be referred in turn to Marquette.

Marquette Has 4
Marquette has two psychiatrists at its child guidance and adult mental health clinics, a full time private practice psychiatrist, and a semiretired psychiatrist who works part time at K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base.

The Escanaba Area is trying to build up its medical services, which are lacking in specialized medical practice while Marquette abounds in it. There is work enough here to keep a psychiatrist fully employed in diagnostics and therapy, Waitrovich told the committee.

St. Pierre said that Delta should not be left alone in provision for mental health services because of cost. Menominee County, formerly associated with it in the Child Guidance Clinic, is joining Marinette in organizing mental health services. Dickinson County has joined Iron in organizing a Mental Health District. Schoolcraft County needn't join Delta. It could join Luce County, which has big Newberry State Hospital at Newberry.

Prohibited would be single and two family dwellings, wholesale business, stores in bulk, warehouses, etc., cold storage, dairy processing plants, bottle works, community garages, filling stations, repair shops, bus terminal, slaughterhouses, churches, schools, library, museums, hospitals or dormitories, community buildings or clubs, assembly halls and funeral homes.

The proposed Commercial-2 zoning would also regulate size of signs and extension from buildings.

"The Commission feels the zoning ordinance has been inadequate," Vinette commented, "but let's not kid ourselves, the reason for the proposed change is the urgent request of the Walch Development Co. The creation of a Commercial-2 section would not, however, necessarily change any land in the city. This would have to be considered separately."

Request Tabled
The motion to amend the zoning ordinance to expand the commercial section carried unanimously.

In the other item on the agenda, the Commission tabled action on a request by Art Goulais to rezone 40 acres on the east side of 23rd St. Goulais told the commission that with the Walch Development Co. modifying its request not to include property on the east side of the street, he had no immediate plans for the property.

Marine Patrol Surprises Reds

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. B-52 bombers pounded the demilitarized zone today just a few miles north of a sweep by U.S. Marines against North Vietnamese army regulars.

In a predawn raid, the bombers swept in from Guam to hammer at enemy troop concentrations and storage areas in the six-mile-wide buffer zone between North and South Viet Nam.

Three miles south of the zone, newly landed Marines pushed inland across coastal marshlands and paddies to track down elements of the reorganized 324B North Vietnamese Division.

The Marines landed by helicopter and landing craft Thursday and met no opposition. But in their first contact later in the day, a Leatherneck reconnaissance team surprised a company of North Vietnamese troops moving down a trail. The North Vietnamese were camouflaged with grass and bushes tied to their bodies.

A U.S. spokesman said the Marines and Communists clashed at close range in a brief but fierce fire fight which inflicted moderate casualties among the Marines. He said nine of the North Vietnamese were killed.

The U.S. Command today acknowledged that American troops burned down the village of Lien Hoa on Wednesday after two U.S. helicopters and an F100 Super Sabre were shot down in the area a day earlier.

A group of 730 Philippine servicemen arrived today on transport ships at Carl Rath Bay and were flown immediately to their new camp in Tay Ninh Province, long a Viet Cong stronghold. Their arrival raised to about 1,000 the Philippine force in Viet Nam and this scheduled to be doubled within a few weeks. The new arrivals also boosted to about 346,000 the total of allied troops from six nations lined up alongside the South Vietnamese against the Communists.

Ford Claims Bad Management Of War In The Air
WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, the House Republican leader, said Thursday the TFX war plane program is "a growing fiasco."

Ford pointed to estimates of soaring costs for that weapon as evidence of what he termed bad civilian management in the Pentagon. The variable-wing plane is still under development for possible use by both the Air Force and the Navy. Deliveries to the Air Force are to start next year.

"I believe that there is growing evidence of a considerable amount of problems in the Pentagon under the civilian leadership," Ford told a news conference.

Ford also complained that the Administration waited too long before stepping up air and naval assaults on military targets in North Viet Nam. He said Republicans recommended that action 1 1/2 months before the Administration took it. An earlier decision, Ford said, could have saved American lives.

Weekend Sale Auction Ready

Everything from major appliances to knick-knacks will go on the block beginning at 1 p. m. Saturday in the second weekend of the Escanaba Exchange Club auction at the Exhibition Building of the U. P. State Fairgrounds.

Auctioneer is Col. George Lockard, who is donating his services. Proceeds from the sale will go to charity and to support the Exchange Club's dental clinic at the Area High School.

Items for sale include the entire household of furnishings from the estate of the late Anna Perring, including antiques, and many items donated from local merchants.

The club announced that a side of beef, fuel oil, motor oil, castor oil and a 1958 Cadillac convertible will also be placed for sale.

The Delta County Retarded Children's Association will again operate a concession stand in the building with proceeds going to support the J. F. Kennedy School for retarded children.

Sale will continue Sunday, also beginning at 1 p. m.

Udall Criticizes Lake Fill Plan

CHICAGO (AP) — Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall sharply criticized Thursday Bethlehem Steel Co.'s plan to fill part of Lake Michigan near its plant at the Burns Ditch Harbor in Indiana.

"Why is this company singled out for a gift of 333 acres?" he asked at a news conference.

The company plans to create 333 acres of land in the lake adjacent to its property. The site is close to the dunes park east of Gary, Ind.

The secretary said his department will appear at a hearing on the issue later this month by the Army corps of engineers.

A permit authorizing Bethlehem to create the acreage was issued Aug. 28 by the secretary of the Army but was suspended Sept. 10 after conservationists protested it would spoil planned recreation areas and accelerate water pollution.

Udall said the park and the land fill are incompatible. "This amounts to putting an industry right in the middle of a national park," he said. "It's a giveaway of a public resource."

The secretary was in Chicago for a water pollution conference with representatives of the Great Lakes states.

Safety Features On 1967 Cars Save Few Lives Claims Expert

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Except for collapsible steering wheels, new safety features on 1967 model cars will save few lives in traffic accidents, a University of Michigan auto safety expert declares.

Dr. Donald F. Huelke of the U-M Anatomy Department added, however, that "all of the padding, recessed knobs and similar safety equipment installed in the 1967 cars will help to minimize nonfatal accidents."

"But in the fatal accidents we are dealing with tremendous impact which cannot be avoided by simply moving back the instrument panel."

Huelke and an associate, Dr. Paul Gikas, a U-M pathologist, studied all 177 traffic fatalities in Washtenaw County from November 1961 to November 1965. "With the exception of the collapsible steering column, new safety equipment on 1967 cars would have saved only two of (those) 177 traffic victims."

Of the 177, 29 died because of striking the steering column. Huelke, however, did not say how many of the 29 he thought would have lived if they had struck collapsible steering columns instead of the rigid columns.

The collapsible steering column is "the greatest safety advance since the seat belt," Huelke asserted.

In his report, he said the National Safety Council is conservative in estimating that 3,000 lives would be saved each year if car passengers wore seat belts.

"I think at least 15,000 lives could be saved with seat belts," Huelke said.

Union Claims 'Profiteering'

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union called on Congress and the Johnson Administration Thursday to expose what it called "corporate price profiteering" as a move to halt inflation.

The auto union's international executive board, declaring the automobile companies should be among "leading targets," said such a program could arouse public opinion into pressuring corporations to reduce "excessive prices."

A public statement issued by the UAW board also backed President Johnson's proposed suspension of both the 7 per cent investment tax credit and depreciation taxes.

In addition, the union called for an increase in the tax rate on corporate profits as part of an anti-inflation effort and a ceiling on interest rates of bank time deposits.

The UAW board, which speaks for more than one million union rank and file members, called for an immediate Congressional investigation to "head off unjustifiable increases" in car prices.

Automobile manufacturers, now busy turning out new 1967 models, have made no announcement regarding prices of their new cars.

However, it has been felt in Detroit that the companies may raise prices in view of new appliances which Congress has required in the car safety program.

There was no immediate comment from the industry on the UAW statement.

Hold on to your hats, folks... See if you can contain yourselves... The announcement is due any day... Nauseous Clay will defend his version of the world heavyweight boxing championship against Cleveland Williams in November... Can you wait?

Williams, in case you are not a close student of the sport, earned his shot at The Big, Mr. Muhammed Ali (for draft evasion purposes) by beating some fish named Herring (Todd) in his last outing... You've never heard of Herring?... Well, join the ranks of hundreds of thousands of other sports fans.

Cleveland Williams is more famous for his fights outside the ring than inside... He made headlines last year when he lasted five seconds against a Texas cop... Just long enough for the policeman to draw and fire a slug into Cleveland's guts... Williams proved how tough he is by recovering in a couple of months in the hospital and then resuming his boxing career against a string of utterly unknowns.

Williams has an ideal boxing style for Clay... His footwork looks like a peasant stomping grapes... Has he got a left jab?... Like a man groping for the lightswitch in a dark room... He throws his right with all the authority of a wet noodle.

Maybe you saw Clay in his outing against Karl Mildew, the fright from Frankfurt... What a battle, what a war, what a fiasco... How many punches did the German land in 12 rounds?... Two... Clay could get hurt worse shoving with a dull blade.

Pro boxing continues to plunge to new lows with Clay at the throttle... Remember when fighters used their fists instead of their mouths?... When the likes of London, Mildew, Cooper and friends would have trouble making the preliminaries?... Forget it... This is the era of mis-matches featuring such stalwarts as Sonny Liston, Floyd Patterson and Henry Cooper, England's walking blood bank... And next we get Cleveland Williams whose only claim to fame came when he challenged a cop to a gun battle without a weapon.

Small Colleges Busy

Northern Seeks Second Victory Against Akron

By The Associated Press

Ten more of Michigan's small college football teams join the three major schools in opening the season Saturday with two of them hoping for victories for widely different reasons.

Albion, owner of the state's longest winning streak with seven straight victories, opens at Wheaton in a night game.

Ferris State, which hasn't tasted victory since a 13-3 triumph over Ohio Northern in the 1963 season finale, plays host to the same team in another night encounter.

Oregon State is at Michigan, North Carolina State at Michigan State and Lamar Tech at Western Michigan in the state's major games.

Michigan Tech is at Alma, Grand Rapids J. C. at Northern, and Olivet at Franklin in day games, while Marietta is at Hillsdale, Manchester at Adrian, Augustana at Hope and Eastern Michigan at Findlay in night games.

In addition, Central Michigan will attempt to get back on the winning track when it plays host to Youngstown in an afternoon game and Northern Michigan goes after victory No. 2 in a night game at Akron.

Albion held the longest unbeaten streak in the Midwest last year only to see it snapped when Wheaton took a 21-12 decision. The Britons went on to win their second straight MIAA championship and finished with a 7-2 mark.

Ferris, which played two ties in 1964 and lost all eight of its games last year, will field a relatively young team with Muskegon freshman Chuck Allard and Owosso senior Walt Haskins expected to share the quarterback chores.

Eastern Michigan, where Ed Mass leads a strong field of quarterback candidates, will be playing the first of two straight road games. The Hurons do not play at home until Oct. 1 against Kentucky State.

Hillsdale has a slim 33-28 edge in season openers in its history but has been 9-2-1 since Muddy Waters took over as head coach. The Dales defeated Marietta 19-7 last year.

Western Michigan will be facing Lamar Tech—winner of the Southland Conference Championship last year—for the first time.

The Broncos are headed by veteran quarterbacks Ron Seifer and Jim Boreland, both juniors. Seifer was the Mid-American Conference's second-best quarterback in completions last year.

Coach Bill Duellittle has come up with a number of formidable reserves in rebuilding the interior and defensive line which was weakened by graduations.

Dodgers Increase Margin In National League Race

By The Associated Press

Give the Los Angeles Dodgers a mile and they'll take an inch—all the way to the bank.

The Dodgers, walking the wire toward another National League pennant, danced to a five-run lead in the first inning of Thursday night's series opener against Pittsburgh but were teetering at the finish of a 5-3 victory that sent them 21½ games ahead of the runner-up Pirates.

Don Drysdale threw a three-hitter at the stumbling Bucs for 8 2/3 innings, then threw a scare into the Dodger Stadium crowd of 50,599 with successive home run pitches to Roberto Clemente and Willie Stargell before Phil Hegan came out of the bullpen to nail the final out.

It was the Dodgers' seventh straight victory and their 12th in 14 games. Few have come easy, but they wouldn't have it any other way.

"We wouldn't know what to do with a big lead," outfielder Ron Fairly said before the first of three key games with the Pirates. "We'd probably fall asleep." Fairly was talking about the pennant race, but his theory applied Thursday night, too.

After rocking Vern Law and reliever Billy O'Dell for four hits in the five-run first, the Dodgers collected three more hits the rest of the evening.

Alley booted Wes Parker's grounder. Drysdale bounced to third baseman Bailey, but Parker beat the throw to second as Johnson crossed the plate. O'Dell then batted the fifth run home.

The Giants buried New York under a 14-hit attack that included two homers by Tito Fuentes and another by Jim Hart, while Bob Bolen scattered eight Met hits and squared his record at 10-10.

Fuentes, who went into the game with five homers, connected on Bob Shaw's first pitch in the first inning, triggering a three-run uprising, then hit a two-run shot in the fifth. Hart slammed his 33rd homer in the third.

Baltimore swept an American League doubleheader from California, 2-0 and 4-3; Washington split a twin bill with New York, winning the opener 5-4 before losing 10-5; Kansas City nipped Cleveland 1-0 in 11 innings, and Boston beat Chicago 5-4.

Dick Schofield, a former Pirate acquired by Los Angeles from the New York Yankees last weekend, started the Dodgers' first-inning binge with a one-out single. After Law retired Willie Davis, Fairly and Jim Lefebvre singled for one run and Lou Johnson doubled another across, chasing the Pirate starter.

O'Dell walked John Roseboro, filling the bases, and the third run scored when shortstop Gene

Seven Is Magic Number For Baltimore Orioles

By The Associated Press

Forgive Hank Bauer for his furored brow.

Sure, Baltimore is winning games again and edging closer to its first American League pennant, but Bauer's still growling.

The Orioles reduced their magic number for clinching the flag to seven Thursday night with a 2-0, 4-5 sweep against California but the heroes were a pair of players who won't be able to help Bauer against the National League champions next month.

Rookie Tom Phoebus, making his first major league start, pitched the four-hit shutout in the first game, striking out eight. He was brought up from Rochester of the International League after Aug. 31 and is ineligible for the World Series.

Veteran Charley Lau, who has spent most of the season on the disabled list, delivered a pinch single that drove in the winning run in the bottom of the ninth in the nightcap. He was added to the active roster after Aug. 31 and also will watch the Series from the sidelines.

The double victory ended a four-game Oriole losing streak but the lame-duck heroes left Bauer less than ecstatic.

He wasn't the only one unhappy in the American League Thursday.

There was Sonny Siebert, who allowed only four hits and went all the way for Cleveland, but lost a 1-0 tangle in 11 innings to Kansas City.

The winner? Wes Stock... one of seven pitchers who shared the shutout for the Athletics.

Trout Season Is Not Over

The Conservation Department is noting that the trout season is not over—that rainbow and brown trout are fair game in certain waters of district four in September, October and November.

The Schoolcraft waters are Milakokla River from quarry road in section 2 down to Lake Michigan, Ashford, Bear, Clear, Dodge and Island lakes.

The Mackinac County waters are Black River from bridge in section 13, the Carp River from Platiz Lake outlet down, Pine River and Fiborn pond.

The trout are also obtainable in the Michigan Northern Power Canal at Soo, Highbanks Lake and the St. Mary's River in Chippewa County; Miners River from the falls in section 15 to Lake Superior, Sucker River from Deer Park truck trail to Lake Superior, East Bay and Beaver Lake in Alger County; and the Two-Hearted River, from Reed and Green bridge down to Lake Superior, Bass, Belle, Bullhead, Camp 8, Frank, and Long Lake in section 34 of Luce County, Perch and Tank lakes and Luce Creek Pond also in Luce County.

The Great Lakes are also open to fall fishing for brown and rainbow trout.

Warm water fishing possibilities are:

Northern pike—Nawaka Lake and East Bay Lake, Alger; Blind Sucker Flooding, Round and Big Manistique lakes, Luce County; Brevort and Milakokla lakes in Mackinac.

Walleye—Nawaka Lake, in Alger County; Big Manistique Lake, Tahquamenon River in Luce and Indian Lake in Schoolcraft.

Yellow perch—Ewalt Lake, Alger County; Blind Sucker Flooding, Round Lake, Big Manistique Lake, Muskallonge Lake, Indian and Snyder lakes, Les Cheneaux channels.

Smallmouth bass—Nawaka Lake.

Bullheads—Nawaka Lake, Tahquamenon River.

Cold water possibilities: Rainbow trout—East Bay Lake, Alger; Bass Lake, Luce, Clear Lake, Schoolcraft, in Clear Lake, most fishermen are taking 10-15 inch fish close to the bottom with night crawlers and worms at night, hanging a gas lantern on the boat.

Menominee—mouth of Two-Hearted in Luce County.

Whitefish—Les Cheneaux channels, using both artificial and live bait.

The department reports that

Probe Blast Aboard Lehigh

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—The 604-foot freighter Lehigh of Bethlehem Steel Corp., lay at anchor here as the Coast Guard investigated her boiler room explosion in which a seaman was hurt Wednesday.

The seaman, Joseph R. Sedmak, 19, of Conneaut, Ohio, was reported in fair condition at War Memorial Hospital. He suffered second degree burns on the face, arms and legs. Two other seamen suffered minor burns.

A Kincheloe Air Force Base helicopter made a 200-mile round trip in flying Sedmak from the Lehigh in Lake Superior to the hospital, arriving here low on gasoline.

The Lehigh, carrying a cargo of iron ore, arrived shortly after 1 a.m. on her own power after being "temporarily disabled" by the explosion.

The explosion was being investigated by a three-man team from the St. Ignace Coast Guard station.

Youth Injured On Motorbike

Elmer Jenerou Jr., 16, was taken by ambulance to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital after a car-motorbike accident at 11:45 a.m., Thursday at the Main and Cedar intersection. Public Safety officers said a car driven by Ernest H. Diery, 73, of Chicago failed to yield in turning from River to Main St., and was hit in the right rear by the motorbike Jenerou was operating. Diery was given a notice to appear for failure to yield right of way. The right rear door of his car was damaged.

Personals

Linda Meron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Meron of 103 N. 3rd St., Manistique and Marie Hoholik, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hoholik, 228 Deer St., Manistique have entered the Green Bay Accredited School of Beauty Culture.

Hospital

Admitted to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital were Louise Tattrow, Thelma Duncan, Lillie Curran, Charles Dyer, John Davidson, Ralph Williams, Mildred Bosanic.

Discharged were Sammy Burns, Herbert Boushey, Mary Hoholik, Joseph Reid and Hilma Bauers.

the coho salmon which Bob Sellman caught in a 41-inch commercial fishing net off Seul Choix Point Sept. 9 weighed 4 pounds 10 ounces and was 21 inches long. It had one light lamprey scar. The fish, taken in 10 fathoms (60 feet) of water is one of 550,000 coho planted in the Platte River and Bear Creek (Manistee River) in the Lower Peninsula in April, 1966.

Briefly Told

State Police ticketed Peter Dykstra, 11, Grand Rapids, Jack L. Walls, Walled Lake, and Gloria A. Braeger, 312 N. 3rd, speeding.

Mrs. Charles Hansen is a surgical patient in Room 203, in St. Mary's Hospital, Marquette.

Taken to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital by ambulance Wednesday were Mrs. Lawrence Foye, 209 Pearl St., at 5:50 p.m., and Mrs. Edward LaFave, 124 N. 4th St., at 9:25 p.m.

Aldean J. Segerstrom, 38, of Cooks was given a notice to appear for reckless driving after an accident at 1:55 p.m., Thursday on County Road 442, a mile east of Schoolcraft 441. State Police said his car went on the right shoulder, slid, spun backwards across the road and rolled, on a curve. Segerstrom and a passenger were uninjured.

Kasbohm Cited In War Service

Staff Sgt. John Edward Kasbohm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kasbohm, of Route 2 Dark River, has been commended for outstanding achievement in the superior performance of duties as cryptographic chief of Headquarters, Task Force Delta, Third Marine Division from Jan. 24 to Feb. 28 in Viet Nam by Lieut. Gen. V. H. Krulak, commanding the U. S. Marine Corps.

The citation says: "Staff Sergeant Kasbohm exhibited uncommon competence and endurance in the planning and preparation of cryptographic materials and procedures relating to operations against insurgent communist (Viet Cong) forces.

"When the message center was seriously under attack, he voluntarily assumed additional duties as its supervisor. With complete disregard for his personal comfort, he consistently gave conscientious and detailed attention to his highly sensitive duties and contributed directly to the efficiency of Task Force communications and the success of Operation Double Eagle. Staff Sergeant Kasbohm's extraordinary technical ability, initiative and selfless dedication to duty reflect great credit upon himself and the Naval Service."

He is a graduate of Bark River-Harris High School in 1958 and his wife, a native of

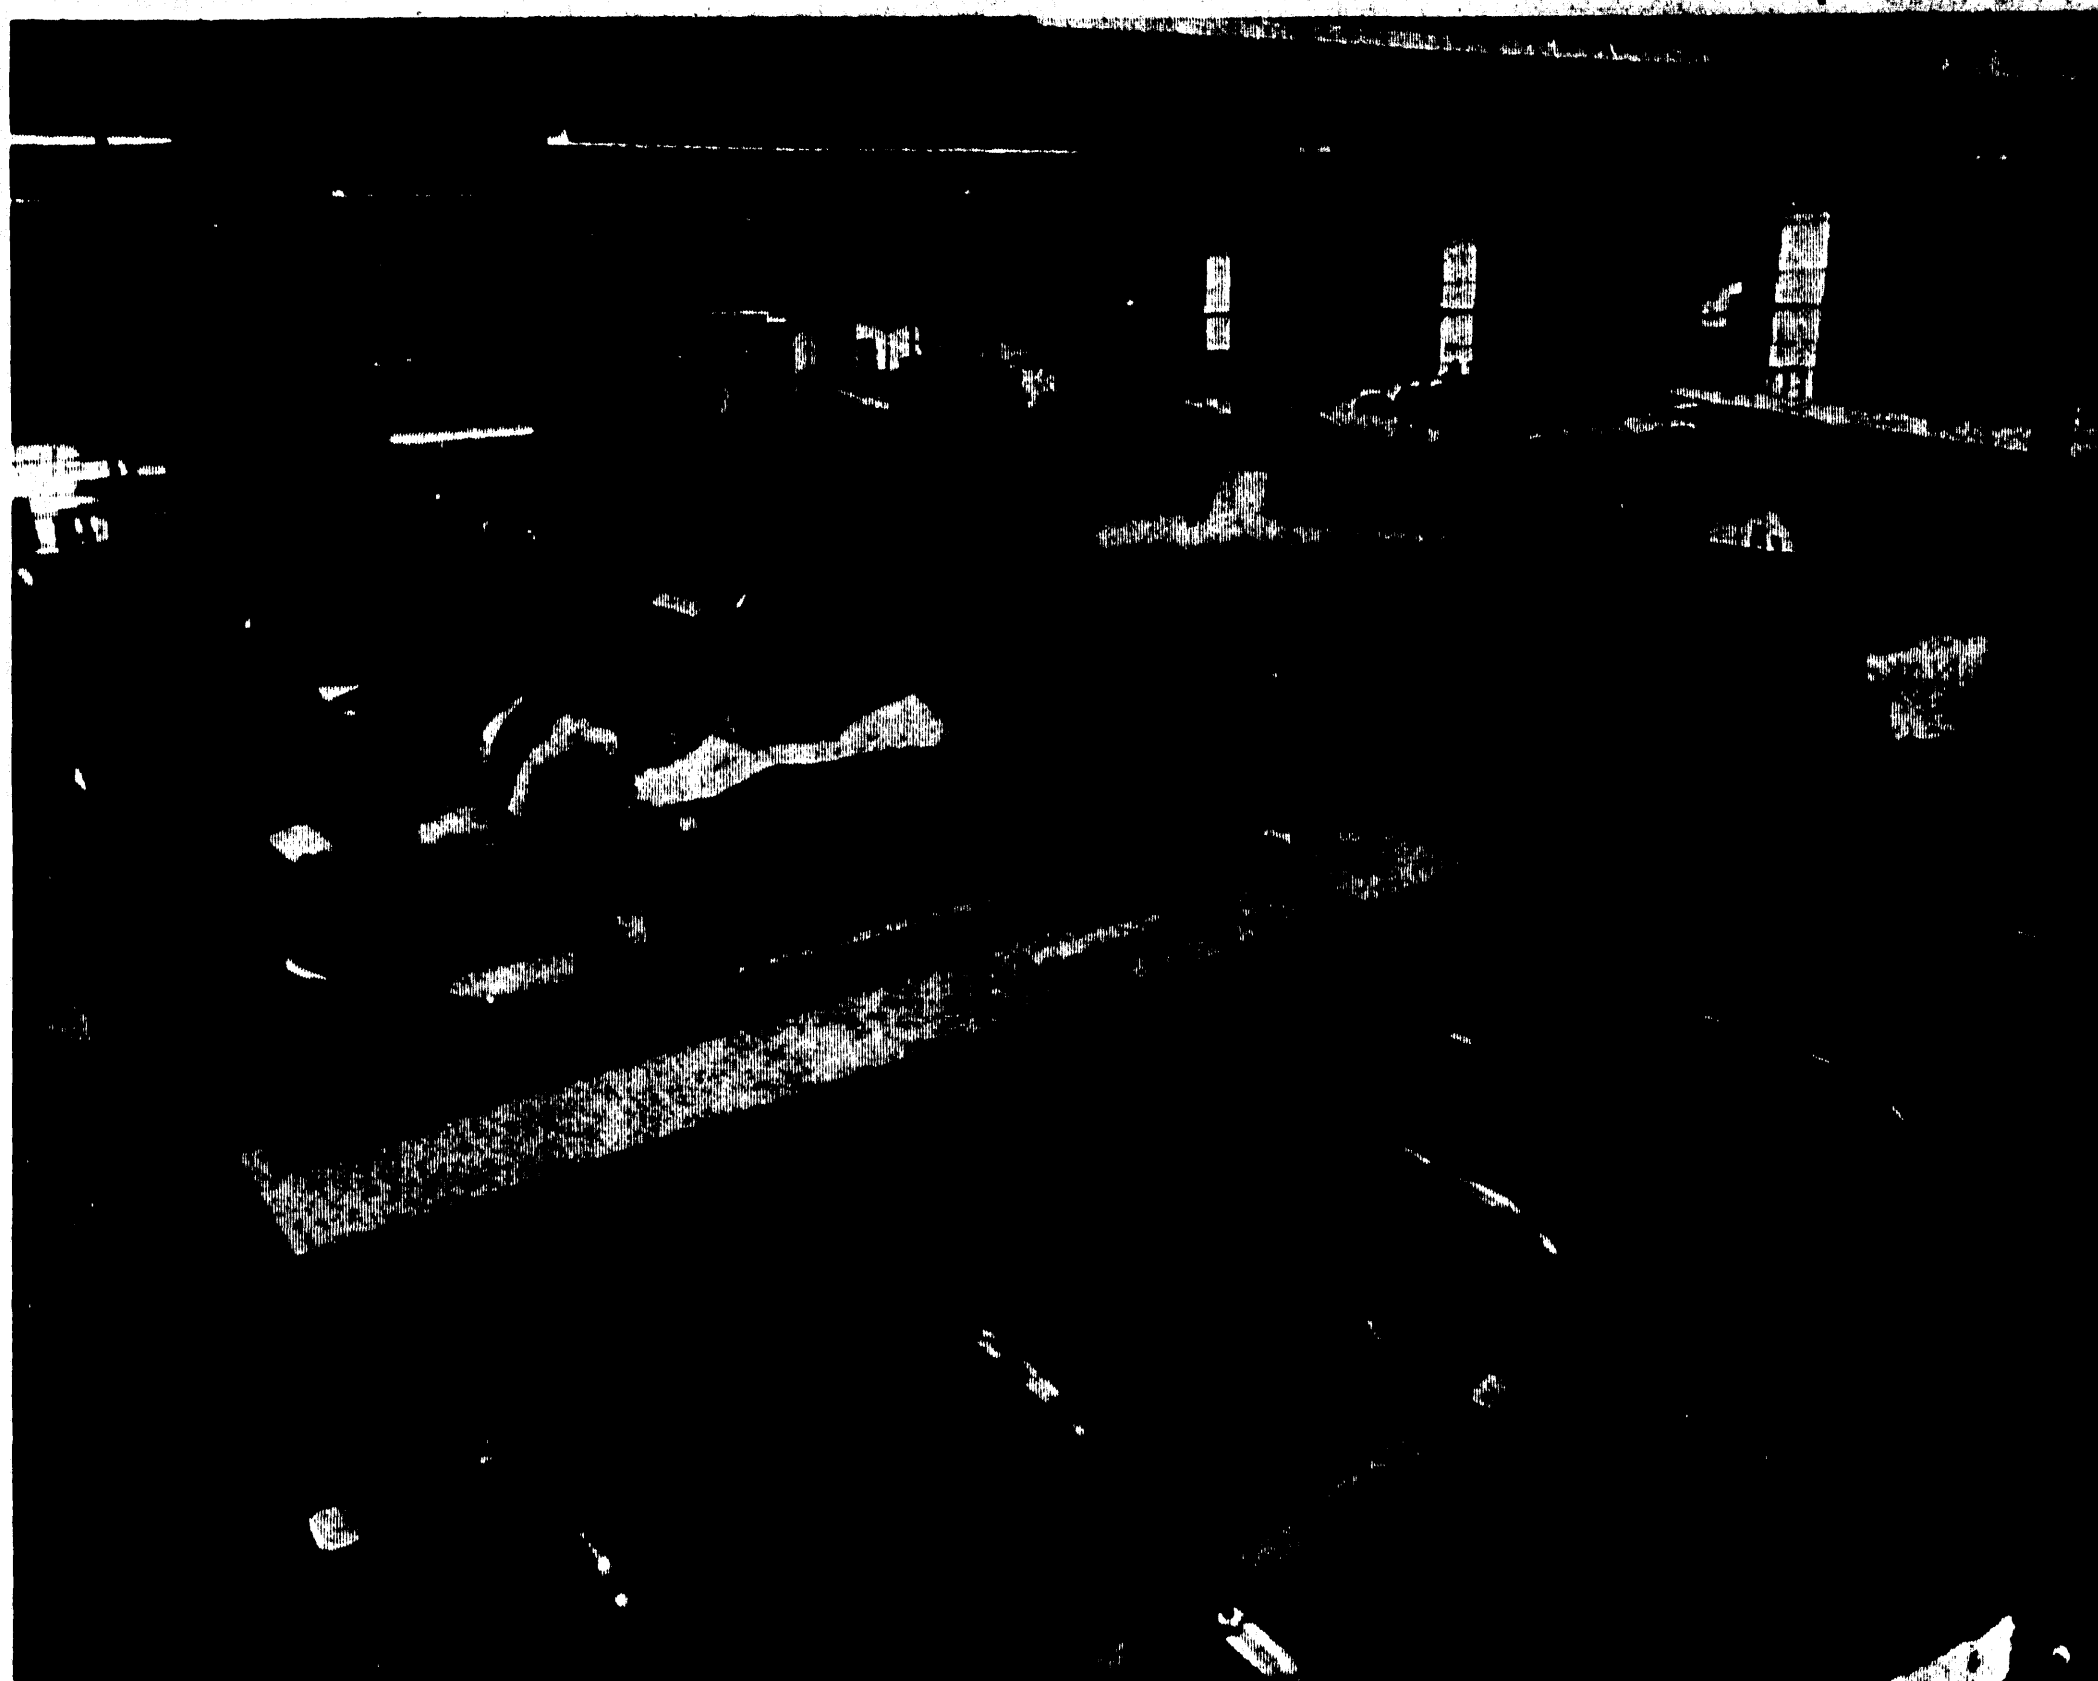

S-Sgt. Kasbohm

Bon, Germany, and their son and daughter live in Tustin, Calif. He has been in the Marines 9 years and has served in Germany, Hawaii, and in Viet Nam for 13 months.
